

Fenton Free Library Code of Conduct Policy

ADOPTED: 11/17

REVISED:

Policy Statement:

The Fenton Free Library Board of Trustees ("Board") is committed to providing an atmosphere conducive to the enjoyment of Library facilities, where people of all ages may read, study, use library equipment, and partake of Library activities and programs.

The Board and Library Staff invite all patrons to enjoy the Library and its collections, services and programs. Service will not be denied or abridged because of religious, racial, social, economic, or political status; because of mental, emotional, or physical condition; or because of age or sexual orientation.

The Board is authorized to establish rules and regulations for the protection of Library resources, visitors, staff and the physical building. The Library Director is authorized and directed by the Board to interpret and enforce these rules and regulations. The rules and regulations that follow are referred to as the Library's Code of Conduct.

Anyone whose behavior is not in compliance with the Library's Code of Conduct will be asked to leave the building and is subject to loss of library privileges (New York State Education Law, Section 262). Library visitors must cooperate with Library personnel in enforcing the Code of Conduct. If a person defies an order personally communicated by an authorized Library employee not to enter the library or not to remain in the Library for failure to comply with the Code of Conduct, said person is subject to arrest for trespass (New York State Penal Law, Section 140.05). Abusive language and behavior toward Library staff will not be tolerated.
